

Community Calendar Terms of Use

The Commerce City Community Calendar is the property of the City of Commerce City, and as such, the City reserves the right to reject or to post, review and edit, prior to inclusion on the Community Calendar, all electronic mail and event announcement forms received.

The Community Calendar will not include information deemed to be or associated with illegal, fraudulent or malicious activity, commercial or private activity, political activity, or religious promotion. Unacceptable requests for inclusion on the Community Calendar include offensive or harassing statements including, but not limited to, comments based on race, national origin, sex, sexual orientation, age, disability, religion, veteran status or political belief.

Electronic mail and event announcement forms received via the Internet become the property of the City of Commerce City. These communications are not private and are subject to public disclosure. The Internet access server, associated security, communications, networking, and systems and components used to access the Internet and/or Online Services, including the Community Calendar, are owned or operated by the City of Commerce City and the contents of all communications using these may be reviewed in the course of business without the advanced notice or consent of the sender or recipient. The City is legally authorized, and hereby reserves the right, to review system use and file content without the advanced notice or consent of the sender or recipient.

Permits for community events are not associated with the notice of an event to the Community Calendar. Please contact the Community Development Department to inquire about the necessary permits for your event.

The City of Commerce City and its information suppliers (i) make no representations or warranties of any kind with respect to services, information or data made available by the Community Calendar, including, but not limited to, the warranties of fitness for a particular purpose or merchantability or non-infringement; (ii) make no representations or warranties of any kind with respect to the truth, accuracy or completeness of any statements, information, materials, services or data made available on the Community Calendar; and (iii) assume no responsibility in connection with any use of the Community Calendar.

In no event shall the City of Commerce City or its information suppliers be liable for any delays or failures in performance or for any interruption of this Internet site; or be liable for any special, incidental, indirect, punitive, or consequential damages or for the loss of profit, revenue, or data however they may arise, even if the user or viewer of this Internet site has been advised of the possibility of potential loss or damage.

The City of Commerce City does not warrant or make any representations or endorsements as to the quality, content, accuracy, or completeness of the information, text, graphics and other items contained on any web links within the Community Calendar. Such materials have been compiled from a variety of sources, and are subject to change without notice from the City of Commerce City as a result of updates and corrections. All trademarks mentioned in the Community Calendar are the property of their respective owners. Some of the links on the Community Calendar may lead to resources outside the City of Commerce City Internet site. The user of these resources or links should not construe the presence of these links as an endorsement. The City of Commerce City is not responsible for the content of any such external link.

Communications made through the email and messaging system shall in no way be deemed to constitute legal notice of any kind whatsoever to the City of Commerce City or any of its agencies, officers, employees, agents, or representatives, where notice to the City of Commerce City is required by federal, state or local law.
