

Neighborhood Meetings

Facts to Know

INTRODUCTION:

The City of Commerce City promotes citizen participation in the development review process. The Community Development (CD) Department encourages neighborhood meetings between citizen groups, developers, and the public in general, especially when development may have significant impact on a surrounding area.

Neighborhood meetings may be held for: Annexations, Rezoning, Subdivisions, Planned Unit Developments (PUD), Development Plans, Uses-by-Permit, Conditional Use Permits, or Master Model reviews. These meetings are intended to provide an opportunity for the applicant to interact with the residents of the neighborhood and citizens of the community.

GENERAL NOTES:

- Neighborhood meetings are conducted to inform neighboring property owners about details of a proposed development or subdivision. The applicant is given the opportunity to explain how the proposed development is consistent with the Comprehensive Plan, and how it will meet the standards of the Commerce City Land Development Code and other city regulations. It is also an opportunity to receive from adjacent property owners and community residents their input about the applicant's proposed development early in the review process, so that revisions may be incorporated into the plan prior to the city's formalized review.
- Planning staff's role in the neighborhood meeting is to represent the CD Department. Planning staff will not be responsible for conducting the meeting. If necessary, staff will be available to answer questions regarding city policies, requirements, processes, etc. In order to avoid scheduling conflicts, please consult with the planning division prior to setting the meeting time. The applicant also must provide the city with a draft copy of the letter to be mailed to neighboring property owners.
- The planning division:
 - Will determine if a neighborhood meeting should be held; and
 - Shall have the sole discretion to expand or decrease the notification area based on the scope of the request.
- The applicant is responsible for:
 - Collecting ownership information from the Adams County Assessor's Office to prepare all public notifications for the neighborhood meeting;
 - Scheduling and choosing a meeting location that is near the development site. The city encourages conducting the meeting at a facility that is accessible to and usable by persons with disabilities, if they choose to attend;
 - Preparing the written notice and for the expense of mailing the notice; and
 - Coordinating allowable meeting dates with the city.
